What Can Apical Do For You?

At Apical, our mission is to improve crop quality and human health by integrating modern analytics with precision growing practices.

"By growing crops with maximum mineral content, we can maximize grower profits and minimize contamination."
- David Knaus, CEO

Science

We use advanced scientific methods and cutting-edge equipment to thoroughly analyze your soil, crops, and irrigation water, down to the molecular level.

Insight

Our analyses, assays, summaries, charts, and graphs give you true insight into the health and future potential of everything you grow, from the ground up.

Action

Our expert team provides actionable intelligence and step by step advice to help you improve yields and quality through the focused application of supplements.
